If you're not presented with an option, you can download a suitable app from the Internet. You can rest easy knowing that your computer and files are safe from threats and attacks. To do this, click the Choose default apps by protocol link at the bottom of the Default apps menu. For Windows 8: On the How do you want to open this type of file [file extension]? window, look for your preferred program for the file type. Of course, there's always the easier option of right-clicking the file you wish to open with a certain app and choosing the Open with option. To change the defaults via Control Panel, right-click the Start button and select Control Panel from the menu. At the bottom of the window, select Folder Options. Select Apps from the options. Meanwhile, you will see others that do not have any suggested apps. Make sure to check the box to Always use the selected program to open this kind of file. Alternatively, right-click on the file and select Get Info. Go to the left pane and select Default Apps. Open File Explorer and right-click on the file you wish to open. If you're using Windows 7 or Vista, you can access Control Panel via the Start menu. Doing so will launch the Search box. Click the Choose default apps by file type link. Click on a hyperlink and the webpage opens in either Microsoft Edge or Safari. However, you can change the default app if you have an alternative in mind. You will see the app or list of apps that your operating system recommends for the file. Click the Reset button to use the built-in apps as the defaults for all the file types. Do you like this post? As one more option, return to the Default Programs screen and click Associate a file type or protocol with a specific program. For example, you can tell Windows to open an Acrobat protocol with Adobe Reader, a MailTo protocol with Mail or Microsoft Outlook, and a Zoom phone call protocol with the Zoom app. Above the bar, you'll see the Change program button. As such, we will teach you how to change default apps on Windows 10 by file type. Select the extension to highlight it. You can unsubscribe from the newsletters at any time. However, you are free to choose from the list of Other Programs too. If you want to choose other applications other than what is available, you can search for programs manually. Select the application you want to use, check the box for always open and click Open. Select your preferred application from the list, and if it is not available, click on the "Find an App in the Microsoft Store" option. Select predetermined programs - associate a file type. On the other hand, you can add your preferred application by clicking on the "Search for an app in the store". To always open a file with that application, click the entry for Another. Once you have finished making changes, you can close the Set Associations window. Please check and share and subscribe to our newsletter! 4 votes, average: 4.25 about 5 Loading. Setting up or changing a default application through Control Panel works the same on Windows 7 as on Windows 8.1 macOS. In macOS, right-click on the file you want to configure and move to the Open with the command. Then select the protocols you want to assign to that application. Now, if you notice that certain types of files are opening with strange applications, then you should check for malware. Set Defaults by App One more option is to set defaults for applications instead of by file type or protocol. Choose Appearance and Subjects. You can choose from the list of Recommended Programs.
