Logitech MX Anywhere 2S Review and Manual Setuplogitech MX Anywhere 2S Software, controller and manual installation: Logitech MX Anywhere 2S is a mouse that offers two main characteristics in addition to its main function as a mouse: 1. The sensor can track all textures, included in the glass, and 2. You can use the last functions of Logitech flow software that allow you to navigate up to three computers without problems, as you would do if you would move the cursor from one monitor to another in double/triple show configuration. Logitech Flow acts as KVM based on software without the need to press a boton, in addition to adding clipboard and sharing files. Logitech has a stable consisting of the entire MX and MX Anywhere 2S line is not an exception. This mouse has a distinctive design with the left and right buttons, and the displacement wheel is interspersed between them. In addition, Logitech has included a square boton of the displacement wheel and two forward buttons and thumbs on the side of the mouse thumb. The sides are soft and semi-brilliance, while the rest of the thumb is the faceted version of the rubber plane that is located in the upper part of the mouse. The good design elements. The micro USB cargo port is placed in the right place. Instead of putting it at the bottom of the device or the back, the port is in the middle in the front of the mouse, which means that it can still be used while loading. One thing that is missing is that there is no place to store the Bluetooth receiver included. You do not need to connect to a computer, provided that the computer or the device you use with your mouse has Bluetooth, but it is still fun at least to have the option to store it in a safe place while traveling. THE GOOD: THE BATTERA approximately two months on almost all surfaces including glass, superportable design Evil: perhaps too small for some! is not a left-handed version. g) Tynical Species of the Sensor Technology: Darkfield High Precision Value: 1000 dpidpi (minimum and maximum value): 200 to 4000 dpi (it can be established in increases of 50 dpi) In a single receiver of complete load requirements for the receiver: USB Portwindows 10 or posterior, Windows 8, Windows 7Mac OS X 10.10 or posterior Setupgetting (PDF): Download heresoftware Download: For WindowsLogitech options software: download download software below, maclgitech Software options: download herethis is the last version of the logitech software directly from the logitech support, and realize if you have problems With this link. Logitech MX Anywhere 2 Wireless Mobile Mouse is a light wireless mouse that establishes new standards for performance and precise in a mouse that you can carry with you. Convene up with up to three devices using the most small logitech, the unifying "" wireless "" Botine 2 It is the ideal combination of comfort and portability "at home, at work and moving. Darkfield's lose monitoring "a e Za e gives you perfect about virtually any surface, including glass (4 mm of minimum thickness) and other high gloss materials. Unlock all the possibilities offered by MX Anywhere 2 by installing Logitech OptionsTM software. In addition to optimizing the mouse for your operating system, the software allows you to customize MX Anywhere 2 buttons and actions to suit your needs. Logitech Options Note: Description of features that require Logitech Options installation are labeled with a blue plate. === THE MX ANYWHERE 2 AT A GLANCE The MX Anywhere 2 mouse offers you two options to make wireless connections: Logitech Unifying (a receiver is included with the mouse) and Bluetooth Smart wireless technology. Pair with the provided unifier receiver Press the Easy-Switch button to select a channel. Press the Connect button. The channel number light starts to flash quickly to indicate that the mouse is ready to match. On the computer, plug the Unifying receiver into a USB port. When pairing, the channel number light selected on the mouse lets blink and remains stable for 5 seconds. (A light that flashes slowly means that the mouse could not complete the connection.) The mouse and computer remain connected on this channel until it connects to the same computer on a different channel or uses the same channel to connect to a different device. Stop with another Unifying receiver Download and install Logitech Unifying software. Press the Easy-Switch button to select a channel. Press the Connect button. The channel number light starts to flash quickly to indicate that the mouse is ready to match On the computer, plug the Unifying receiver into a USB port and follow the on-screen instructions to complete the pairing. When pairing, the channel number light selected in the mouse lets flash andstable for 5 seconds. (A light that flashes slowly means that the mouse could not complete the connection.)
